Care and maintenance

Wood furniture

Wood displays different grain patterns depending on which way they are cut - for example, the 'medullary ray' which can appear on oak furniture is a mark of good quality timber - these are just characteristics of natural beauty of the wood. Some furniture is also deliberately aged and rustic, wood veneers also allow a distinctive pattern to be created on some surface, such as tabletops and drawer fronts by the way slivers are arranged.

How to care for your wood furniture

Furniture with a hard lacquer, wax polish or painted surface should be dusted with a dry cloth. Waxed furniture will need to be given a coat of beeswax a couple of times a year to help maintain its lustre.

Spray polishes are best avoided as they contain silicones which may spoil the furniture's surface when building up over time.

Make sure all surfaces are protected from the heat and liquids by mats and coasters. Wipe up spills immediately and ensure that a mat or pad is placed under paper if you are writing.

Our furniture will endure most temperatures in the home, but it is best to avoid placing furniture next to heat sources such as radiators or fires. Be particularly careful with solid wood as the lack of humidity caused by home heating can cause damage such as warping.

Caution

This wood has a painted surface that can scratch. Please avoid contact with hard, sharp objects. Avoid placing plant pots or vases without waterproof mats to prolong the life of the product.

Please do not sit or lean on this product.

Maximum Load Capacity: 35 lbs for the top surface, 13 lbs for each shelf.

Retain these instructions for furniture reference.

Your feedback is very important to us and we would love to hear your comments on your new furniture. Please visit our website to leave a review. Thank you.

Safe Home - Furniture

At Studio London we pride ourselves in developing product that is great quality, offering the best possible value for money.

We also care about your safety, engineering product to minimise any potential risk and providing you with information to enable you to make your home safe and prevent accidents from happening.

Furniture stability

Furniture stability and 'tipping or overturning' is of particular concern and it's important to consider the environment in which your furniture is being placed and who might come in to contact with it. For example small children may be attracted to toys placed out of reach and may use furniture as a ladder to retrieve them. The elderly may also use furniture to pull themselves up from low seating and even pets climbing on furniture could cause furniture to become unstable.

It's also recommended that heavy item such as TVs are positioned on furniture suitable for the job to prevent any risk of the furniture toppling over.

Other considerations to prevent accidents are how furniture is loaded. Heavier items should be positioned on lower shelves or lower drawers so that the furniture is more stable and less likely to topple.

Wall fixing or attachment devices

We would strongly recommend that all freestanding furniture 23 5/8 inch in height is attached to the wall for added safety. This is critical where babies and children have access and there is an increased risk of a toppling incident occurring.

Consider the type of wall that your furniture is to be positioned against when making your purchase and make sure that you use the correct wall fixings referring to the 'wall anchoring guide' which you will find in your product instructions.

If in doubt about which wall fixings to use, or if you're concerned about your DIY competency seek expert advice from a qualified tradesperson.

Warning label

The following label can be found on own brand products and is affixed permanently. This should remain on the product for the duration of its life additionally offering guidance to costumers that purchase the furniture in the second hand market.
